Democrat Seeks Seat In Congress

Rutledge
Looks Ahead
To 1970

By TOM BRUNDETT
Staff Writer

A. William Rutledge, a St. Joseph Democrat and the grandson of the founder of the Molly Pitcher wine company in Harbert, today announced he would seek the Fourth Congressional House of Representatives seat in the 1970 general election.

Rutledge, 27, of 1704 Niles avenue, acknowledged that the announcement was early. But he said he wanted to allow time to develop his campaign and get feedback from the people. It is his first venture for elective office.

Petitions to place Rutledge's name up for the Democratic nomination for the post, now held by Republican Edward Hutchinson, Fennville, will be circulated and filed by the deadline next year, attorney Tat Parrish said. Parrish is chairman of the Berrien county Democratic party.

Hutchinson has not yet indicated whether he will seek reelection and no other names are yet being mentioned in earnest by sources in either party.

Rutledge, whose grandfather, William L. founded and is now president of the Molly Pitcher Wine company, is a partner with his father, Eamon in a wine and food brokerage firm. He is a graduate of Beloit college with a bachelor's degree in economics. He attended school in Berrien Springs before moving to California where he graduated from Palm Springs high school.

ACTIVE IN POLITICS
Since moving to St. Joseph in 1966, Rutledge has been active in county party politics, working in the 1968 campaign and serving as a member of the county committee. He is a member of the Democratic Fourth District committee.

The committee is made up of chairmen and other representatives from the seven counties making up the congressional district. Berrien, Cass, Van Buren, Allegan, St. Joseph, Hillsdale and Branch counties comprise the district.

Rutledge's wife, Melinda, 25, is a nurse in the public health nursing section of the county health department. She works at clinics, schools, and at home visits in the Eau Claire, Sodus, and Berrien Center areas. Her father, Edwin Davis, is a bank executive in Galesburg, Ill., where she was reared.

Rutledge said he was entering the race to present voters with an alternative to Hutchinson. He described the Republican as very conservative and a carryover from bygone years.

The candidate declined to spell out his positions on current issues at the present time.

Apollo 11 Crew Sounder Than Predecessors

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts returned from man's most dangerous adventure — a landing on the moon — in better shape than previous Apollo crews, their doctor says.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief of the space doctors, said Friday that the astronauts came back healthier and better rested than any of the men on the other Apollo missions.

"Why this is, we don't know for sure as yet," he said, but he believes one reason was the attitude of the crew.

PRINTING DOUBLED

'Naked' Truth Doesn't Hurt Sale Of Novel

NEW YORK (AP) — Sales of "Naked Came the Stranger" have zoomed since columnist Michael McGrady disclosed that he and 24 friends wrote it as a gag, to show that a sex novel doesn't have to be good to sell.

The day after the hoax was revealed, orders flooded the publisher, and the second printing was doubled quickly to 20,000 copies. Bookstore managers who still have copies say it is selling faster than Jacqueline Susann's "The Love Machine" and other books that "Stranger" was written to satirize.

The book, written under the pseudonym "Penelope Ashe," had been selling well even before the hoax was disclosed, bookstore managers say. McGrady said he was told it was just below the best-seller lists, and that he "fought, for weeks" to keep the story bottled up, hoping it would prove his point by showing up on the top 10 before the truth got out.

But Wednesday he admitted that he had dreamed up the basic plot and that 24 friends, mostly writers and editors on the Long Island newspaper Newsday, had written different chapters without knowing what the others were doing. "True excellence in writing will be blue pencilled into oblivion," he warned them.

With the hoax revealed, 7,200 orders flooded the publisher, Lyle Stuart, Inc., before 11:30 a.m. Thursday. A second printing of 10,000 copies had been planned, but Vice President Robert Solomon said, "We jumped it to 15,000. Then half an hour later we went to 20,000."

"We're completely wiped out of everything we had," he said. The initial printing was 20,000 copies of the hardcover book, which lists for $5.95.

Pair Will Not Face Prosecution

Niles Obscenity Charges Dropped

Charges have been dismissed against two employees of the Niles 31 Outdoor theater, where the showing of an allegedly obscene film last May resulted in confiscation of the film and warrants against the two employees and the corporation owning the theater.

Dismissed on motion of the prosecution were charges against James Bowers, route 1, Dowagiac, manager of the theater; and projectionist Electus Slater, 201 Carol street, Niles. Until dismissal, the charges pending against both men were contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of an obscene film with intent to show it to persons under 18.

OWNERS PAY FINE

Andrew Novikoff, of the Berrien County prosecutor's office, said that the dismissal came because the prosecutor felt he had accomplished what he set out to do. Novikoff said that there was no point in prosecuting the employees when the theater owners had already pleaded guilty and paid a fine.

The Chicago firm that owns the Niles outdoor theater paid $550 fine and costs May 12, after pleading guilty to possessing an obscene film.

A counsel for the corporation said at the time of conviction that the firm regretted the incident, would take measures to enforce an attendance policy and would consider community standards in selecting films for future showing.

DOMESTIC REFORMS

Here Are Highlights Of Nixon's Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the highlights of President Nixon's proposals for domestic reforms:

—Replacement of the present aid to dependent children welfare program with a basic federal income of $1,600 a year for a family of four. Families with a working head of household would be eligible for the first time. A federally provided floor of $65 month would go to recipients of aged, disabled or blind assistance.

The sharing of federal tax revenues with hard-pressed state and local governments. The equivalent of $1 billion would be provided in the first year.

—Step-by-step transfer of manpower training programs from Washington's supervision to state and local governments.

—Reorganization of the antipoverty agency to lay new stress on experimental social programs rather than operation of established uplift efforts.

Out To Abolish Welfare Mess

President Wants States To Regain Powers

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon wants a "New Federalism" that will ship tax dollars and job programs out of Washington but nationalize the welfare system and give every poor family a basic income.

The heart of the President's domestic proposals, announced in his broadcast Friday night, is a federal income guarantee of $1,600 a year to a family of four, plus supplements until earnings reach $3,920—provided the breadwinner is willing to work.

His new "family assistance program" and other reforms would supplant the present aid to dependent children program, subsidize the working poor for the first time and add $4 billion a year to the present $4.2 billion federal welfare bill. Welfare recipients would more than double to 22.4 million.

EXPANDED TRAINING

The President called for gradual assignment of the $1 billion-a-year federal manpower program to state and local governments. Some $680 million more would be added to expand job training for welfare recipients and offer day-care centers for their children.

State and local governments would also share $1 billion a year in federal revenues with few strings attached, beginning in 1971.

Republican leaders in Congress generally applauded the President's program. But action on the welfare reforms may be a year or two away, they cautioned, and revenue sharing is sure to face rough going.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee is one important Democrat who doubts Congress will shovel out money with few controls. His committee will consider the revenue sharing proposal, which House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said could mount to $5 billion a year by 1975.

The President advocated federal payments of $65 a month for recipients of three adult welfare programs—aid to the blind, disabled and aged. The government now has a sliding scale of matching payments for the programs.

Nixon also announced executive reorganization of the antipoverty agency for a new emphasis on experimental job programs rather than operation of proven ones.

States would save $735.8 million a year in welfare costs under his federalized program, the President said.

WELFARE QUAGMIRE

He described a "welfare quagmire" that is threatening to bankrupt state and local governments under a case load that has doubled in the last 10 years.

It discriminates against cer-

Police Probing Collins' Visitor

'Bishop' Allowed In Cell Of Accused Killer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A county prosecutor says a " cursory investigation" will be made into a former mental patient who claims to be a bishop and who was allowed by jail officials to visit John Collins, a student charged with slaying a coed.

Joseph Pasie, 62, said Friday that he had talked with Collins and said that "he had repented, come to God with his sins, laid himself before God and asked for forgiveness."

Pasie, however, said he did not ask Collins to specify his "sins."

MAXIMUM SECURITY
Collins, 22, has been held under maximum security for more than a week on a charge of strangling Karen Sue Beineman, 18, an Eastern Michigan University freshman in late July.

Authorities also are seeking to determine whether there is connection between Miss Beineman's death and the deaths of six other young women in southeast Michigan in the last two years.

California and New Jersey authorities also are searching for links to similar murders in their areas.

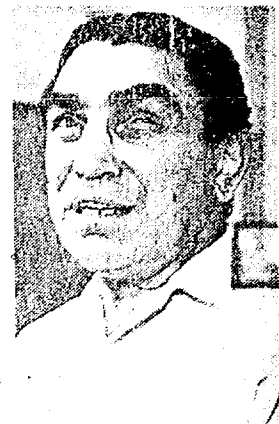

Meanwhile, Andrew Manuel Jr., 25-year-old factory worker wanted for questioning in the slayings was returned to Michigan Friday night from Phoenix, Ariz., where he was arrested Wednesday.

Manuel faced court arraignment today in Ypsilanti, Mich., on a larceny charge in connection with a trailer authorities said he rented in Michigan and then left in Salinas, Calif.

Officials said Manuel made the California trip with Collins. Manuel agreed to waive extradition Friday on a federal fugitive warrant in connection with the larceny charge.

Some local officials were reportedly irritated that Pasie, who calls himself Bishop Bartholomew, was allowed to visit Collins last Monday after the Eastern Michigan student authorized it. Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhay said an investigation would be made into Pasie.

Pasie says he is an official in the Doukhobors, an 18th century

Blind Teacher Is Fired

MISS EVELYN WECKERLY

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Mona Shores board of education in Muskegon has declined to renew the teaching contract of Miss Evelyn Weckerly, 27, contending her blindness makes it impossible for her to maintain control of her high school English classes.

Miss Weckerly was blind when she was hired by the board three years ago on a trial basis during a teacher shortage. The board's decision was upheld by Ingham county district court but she plans to appeal.

ABM Passes Its First Test

Margaret Chase Smith, the attractive, sharp-minded feminine Senator from Maine, slid the banana peel under her liberal contingent Wednesday to give proceed with the anti-ballistic missile system.

Mrs. Chase's reversal of what she had been expected to do (she had been an ABM critic from the outset) delivered a 51-49 edge to the program. This obviated Vice President Agnew, the Senate's presiding officer, from having to break a predicted 50-50 tie.

Congress must still appropriate a sizeable fund, $4 billion to start with, to get ABM off the drawing boards, but Mike Mansfield, the Senate's majority leader, probably is correct in saying the opposition has crested. Unless the ABM's foes can uncover more ammunition, the appropriation seems reasonably certain of passage.

The ABM controversy is months old in the making, going back almost to Nixon's inauguration, and as many weeks under debate in the Senate.

The debate is about as fuzzy as any taking place in the federal legislature because it centers around a weaponry system which is a drawing board theory and can not be field tested for fear of igniting World War III.

The experts can argue rationally the merits or demerits of a tank or a rifle. These weapons have a limited range. They can be tested in our own backyard without damaging life or property. Their production methods can be studied at first hand. Their cost accounting can be finely drawn.

The ABM is a cousin in the exotic missile family only to be fired by "The Button" if something happens.

Its theoretical capabilities are known or disputed, depending on which side of the current argu-

Thirty years ago the Chicago Tribune reported on Maxwell Street, "Those who would take a last look to store in their memories had best hurry down."

The prediction was based on a plan in the Chicago city hall to relieve traffic congestion.

Among other things this called for shoving the push carts and street stands out of the street, thus freeing it up as a through traffic conduit.

Costly Pilfering

Crimes, particularly thefts, against business firms certainly are nothing new, but over the years they have been growing and the public, the consumer, up to now has shown little concern. He ought to be interested, because he pays for it.

An official of a Chicago based department store chain recently pointed out how expensive this can be to the shopper, who he estimated pays an average of 1.5 percent more than he should for his purchases to cover the losses the stores suffer from theft. In the case of some stores, the "theft tax" goes as high as 5 percent.

Now underway before the Senate Select Committee on Small Business are hearings to determine the extent and causes of crime against business. Consumers, the housewives in particular, ought to be interested in learning the extent to which hapless businesses become the middleman in an economic transaction which ends with the man-in-the-street's pocketbook.

Bob Cousy is among the smaller men in the basketball business, but he stands head and shoulders above most of his competitors.

One of the all-time greats as a pro, after a brilliant college career he now faces another challenge as head coach of the Royals from Cincinnati.

A New York lad, he grew up playing stickball and handball in the streets. His family moved to Queens in 1939 and he discovered basketball.

It was at Andrew Jackson High School that he heard the first of many coaches express doubt that he was big enough to make the team in basketball. He soon made a believer out of his coach and was picked as captain of the New York City all-star team in his senior year.

Then his trouble started all over again. Only 6 feet tall, he Only 6 feet tall, he watched taller boys land the scholarships to prominent basketball colleges. Finally, Holy Cross offered him a scholarship.

Cousy again made the first team and this time the basketball world took notice. In a close game against Loyola of Chicago in his junior year, Cousy first used his behind-the-back dribble, one of the moves that earned him his "magician of the court" tag.

After leading Holy Cross to the NCAA title, he joined the fabled Boston Celtics in 1950. A skeptical head coach Red Auerbach said "It's a big man's game." It wasn't long before Cousy was one of the biggest men on the Celtics.

A successful college coach, Cousy now must make a winner out of the team of Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and others. Can he do it?

Others born today include Izzak Walton, Ralph Houck.

HENRY CATHCART

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — President Nixon took the unusual step recently of being the first chief executive in U.S. history to advocate some form of dissemination of birth control material to women of child-bearing age in poor or moderate income status.

Given the religious and moral taboos against birth control information, his step was considered a bold one. Some recent figures go far to explain why the President "brought" the birth control package from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The fact is that births in the United States are sharply on the upswing, brought about mainly because Americans are marrying at a record pace that is scheduled to increase in volume as we move into the 1970's. The record number of marriages results in turn from the baby boom that followed the end of World War II, and is just now bringing these millions of young

..And Speaking Of Your Health

A strange virus is suspected to be the cause of infectious mononucleosis, the disease that strikes young adults in schools, colleges nursing and medical schools. It is known as the EB virus. At the present time this virus is strongly implicated as a cause of "mono."

Although the disease, infectious mononucleosis, is considered to be relatively mild, it does take a toll in many months of incapacitation and weakness. It is important, therefore, for scientists to learn more about the cause in the hope that prevention will follow.

The extent of scientific research is almost unbelievable. A group of doctors from the United States Public Health Service noted that on a tiny island in the Bering Sea not a single case of infectious mononucleosis was found among the natives. This so intrigued them that they decided to look for the EB virus in different isolated areas of the world. Dr. James Maynard and his colleagues found that on the St. Paul Island almost everyone above the age of three had within his blood antibodies against the EB virus. This explained why the small group of people living on this island were protected against mononucleosis.

It may well be that unrecognized virus infections can confer immunity on some people to mononucleosis and other viral diseases.

A fascinating report was just issued by Dr. W. R. Keatinge at the London Hospital. He and his colleagues have been studying the reasons why drowning deaths occur in very cold water. Normally, they say, such fatal accidents are said to be due to a severe cramp. Their study and conclusion was based on a group of excellent swimmers who wore typical clothing that a Sunday sailboat sailor might be wearing.

Almost as if a boat were overturned, these swimmers were placed in very cold water and quickly had a sense of difficulty in breathing as soon as they got into the water. The heavier, or fatter swimmers did not have as great difficulty as did the thinner men in the trial swim. An important conclusion reached by the scientists that "people thrown into the water should stay put until picked up." In addition, the suggestion was made that if sailors have any notice of impending danger, they should put on as much clothing as possible and that "it is imperative for occupants of small boats to wear a life jacket capable of keeping the face above the water. Swimming, even short distances, without one increases the risk of drowning considerably."

Closed circuit television and the wonders of modern electronic communication devices are exceedingly helpful to surgeons in the operating room. At the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia there is a rapid television communication between the operating room and the laboratory. Within minutes the surgeon knows the exact nature of the tissue he is removing and plans his surgery on the information that is given to him.

The bidding:

Opening lead—jack of spades. When the defenders have been in the bidding, declarer will usually find it much easier to gauge the location of the missing high cards and the distribution of the various suits. But evidence along such lines is merely presumptive, not conclusive, and declarer must not allow himself to be convinced by such evidence when a better alternative play, independent of bidding inferences, is available.

Consider this hand where South took an expensive trip down the primrose path. West led a spade and declarer, mindful of West's overall, finessed the queen and lost to the king.

Declarer now leads the queen of spades, and it does not matter to him where the king is located. Whoever wins with the king is bound to either return a diamond or yield a ruff and discard. Either way, South loses only a spade and two diamonds to make the contract.

The Twin City Junior Drum and Bugle Corps goes from baseball to football tonight. The corps will perform at Buchanan during the home opener for the Southwestern Michigan Hawks against the Dayton, Ohio, Colts. Last night, the corps was in Chicago playing at the White Sox-Detroit Tigers double-header.

The victim, Theodore Frazier, a Negro, of 4901 Calumet avenue, Chicago, was overcome by a wave as he and a companion were heading back for shore and apparently was pulled under by strong current about 3 p.m.

His body was found two hours later in four-foot deep water approximately 15 feet off the Silver Beach shore, by Ricky Church, 16, of Benton Harbor, who was helping in the search.

U.S. Coast Guard and Berrien County sheriff's patrol boats dragged for the body before it was found by Church.

The body was taken to Memorial hospital in St. Joseph where a medical examiner listed the cause of death as drowning.

Theodore Frazier was at Silver Beach with a group of 36 other youngsters from Chicago. Their trip here was sponsored by the Chicago Committee On Urban Opportunity, a human resources youth organization. Twelve advisors also made the trip.

One-Year Levy Sought On Monday

Thirty-Two Teachers May Be Eliminated

Benton Harbor school district will ballot Monday on 3.5 mills in extra operating taxes. The issue is a 2-mill reduction from a proposal defeated in June.

Failure to pass the millage will mean that $450,000 must be cut from the school district's budget. About thirty-two teachers will be cut from the staff, which already has been reduced by 10 in an economy move announced July 24.

All registered voters in the district are eligible to ballot.

Extra-curricular activities will be seriously curtailed by eliminating pay for teaching, coaching and advisory positions which are not self supporting. The slashes also will hit maintenance, book purchases, crossing guards and noon hour supervisors. Crossing guards are paid jointly by the school district, city of Benton Harbor and Benton township, and municipal support could continue.

The district avoided further curtailments because $150,000 was saved from the 1968-69 budget and will be used to operate next school year.

ONE-YEAR LEVY

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at 28 precincts. The extra 3.5 mills would be levied for one year.

Teachers contracts are unsettled in the district and a three-year master contract has expired.

Minimum starting pay for teachers in Benton Harbor last year was $6,500 — lowest in the state among 30 school districts with more than 10,000 students. Three other of the 30 districts also started at $6,500. The survey was made by the Flint school district.

The information showed that Benton Harbor spent $21.50 per pupil for administration and $485.10 per pupil for instruction. Seventeen of the other districts spent more for administration and 23 spent more for instruction. The administrative high was $41.19 for Birmingham. Ann Arbor spent $710.82 per pupil for instruction.

TOTAL TAX RATE

The total tax rate in Benton Harbor last year was 29.30 mills — 15 districts levied more millage ranging up to 44.57 for Wayne.

In 1967-68, Benton Harbor spent a total of $566 for each student while the state average was $598 and St. Joseph spent $682.

Dr. Mark Lewis, superintendent, said that failure of the millage means elimination of teaching positions for elementary art, music and physical education. These are itinerate teachers who go from school to school. The programs would be retained at the junior high-senior high level. Lewis also said every effort would be made to keep them in seventh and eighth grades that are not in junior high buildings.

"Educationally speaking it is an unhappy circumstance. Financially speaking we have no alternatives if the millage does not pass," Lewis said.

YMCA Office Is Ransacked By Burglars

The Y M C A Community branch at Brittan and Euclid avenues in Benton township was broken into overnight and offices, a game room, and the kitchen ransacked. A vending machine was forced open also.

Township police said amount of loot was not determined immediately. Entry was through a rear door.

Locked cupboards in the kitchen and desk drawers in the offices had been opened and the contents strewn about. The glass of the kitchen door had been smashed.

LEADERS' VIEWS

Community's Future Lies In Good Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: The importance of education to the community is stressed in these statements by Mrs. Dorothy Blakeslee and Atty. James Nettleton, members of the Benton Harbor board of education, and V. Winston Ferris, coordinator of educational materials at Benton Harbor junior high. The Benton Harbor school district votes Monday on 3.5 mills in operating taxes.

Mrs. Dorothy Blakeslee: "Every citizen knows that the future of the community lies in large measure with the ability of the schools to educate the children and youth of this district so that they can contribute to the well-being of this area."

"The citizens and taxpayers of this district have loyally provided funds for their school system in the past. Each board member is well aware of the taxpayer revolt but the inflationary spiral affects schools too, so if we are to continue our fine programs we need this 3.5 mills we are seeking."

EVERYONE HAS STAKE

"Every citizen has a stake in the election next Monday in our Benton Harbor school district. Business knows that good schools attract new industry, labor knows that good schools mean more job opportunities. Parents know that their children's future depends on getting a good education. All property owners know that good schools will help to keep the value of their property up."

Nettleton: "Our community will progress only through the sustained efforts of dedicated, competent and informed people having wholesome attitudes toward one another. A dynamic community depends upon people who are willing, able and intellectually qualified to contribute to their community. Man's intellectual resources are currently in increasing demand in commerce, industry, agriculture and the professions. Society cannot afford to waste such intellectual resources by its failure to develop them in good public schools."

CONFLICTS SHOW FAILURE

"Contemporary conflicts between individual adults and civil strife between segments of our population epitomize our past failures to help people understand how to work and live together in peace and harmony. In spite of these results, the public school system continues to represent the one area in our society where children from diverse backgrounds may learn the true significance of their close association with each other as they mature into the citizens of tomorrow."

"Students who learn and apply themselves to their roles as citizens are community assets. Rioters and proponents of civil disorder can be costly liabilities. An orderly society based upon justice and equal treatment under law promotes concepts of equality of opportunity and equality of status. The history of our nation indicates that a society of free people is dependent upon the moral and spiritual values of a responsible and intelligent citizenry. The education of our future citizens is the keystone to our democratic processes."

since our schools promote loyalty to the basic ideals of democracy and a sense of responsibility necessary to sustain our society. The rejection of the 3.5-mill proposal may prove to be penny wise and

RULES ARE LISTED FOR YOUTH FAIR EXHIBITS

LITTLE PROBLEM: Few dead fish clutter the beach at Benton Harbor's Jean Klock park in the aftermath of an alewife die-off in southern Lake

Michigan. Officials say the die-off was serious but not as bad as in 1967. (Staff photo)

Lake Fish Dieoff Problem May Be Just About Over

Last week's medium to heavy alewife die-off in southern Lake Michigan seems to be over and no problem remains in the wake.

Jack Hammond, the Department of Natural Resources' regional fish biologist for the southern Lower Peninsula, spotted "very few" dead fish in open waters when he took an air tour this week over the lower sector of the lake. Dead alewives appear to be practically "nonexistent" in coastal waters north of Benton Harbor, according to Hammond. Adding to hopes that the recent die-off is ended is the fact that very few fish were reported seen this week by crew member of a federal boat which crossed Lake Michigan from Waukegan, Ill., to Saugatuck.

NOT BIG PROBLEM
Supervisors at the Warren Dunes and Van Buren state parks also report the situation well in hand and improved over a week ago.

"They aren't too bad right now," report assistant Warren Dunes supervisor Richard Neillitz, "certainly not as bad as last week. July 31 was the last time we cleaned the beach with the machine. We have done periodic raking on a daily basis since then."

And Van Buren park supervisor Lawrence L. Kern says all cleaning operations there have been with rakes and shovels.

"The die-off the past couple of weeks was fairly serious but not nearly as bad as 1967," comments Kern. "To date we haven't had to request assistance from the City of South Haven in cleaning up the beach. It hasn't been that bad yet." (Beach cleaning machines are stationed at Warren Dunes, Benton Harbor and South Haven.)

Van Buren state park has more than a half mile of beach and workers have been taking off between a half and three-quarters a ton of dead alewives daily. "But it slackened off considerably Thursday," adds Kern.

"We're not seeing the fish," continues Hammond, "in any where near the numbers we did last week when most of them were observed floating in open waters from Chicago north to Benton Harbor." The area where the dead fish washed ashore stretched from the Gary, Ind., coast to South Haven.

SITUATION IN HAND
"From everything we can tell, last week's die-off is not continuing and the situation is well in hand, at least for the time being," reports Hammond.

He adds that it is difficult to say whether the later-than-usual losses of the fish are over for the 1969 season.

Hammond also made an air flight over the state's southern Lake Huron coastline this week but didn't find any sign of an alewife die-off to worry about.

He said it looks as though swimming and boating activities in the Lake Huron area continue to be normal.

Held In Jail Eight Days By Mistake

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Held by mistake for eight days, 19-year-old James Rhoten of Kalamazoo finally has been released from jail.

A clerical error in the court clerk's office was blamed.

REV. ROBERT BREGE

Lutheran Units Join Fellowship

Involves 10 Churches In Area

Members of 10 area Missouri Synod Lutheran churches are now in an "altar and pulpit fellowship" with the American Lutheran church, according to the Rev. Robert Brege of Christ Lutheran church in St. Joseph.

Rev. Brege, who was a pastoral delegate to the Missouri Synod—Lutheran church's national convention in Denver recently, said that the adoption of the fellowship resolution at the convention did not represent a merger of the two separate church bodies.

AUTONOMY REMAINS
He stressed that the autonomy of each local congregation remained as always but now a congregation of one church body may call as its pastor, a clergyman of the other church body, provided that prior approval is given from both churches.

He said the establishment of fellowship does not imply the indiscriminate calling of pastors across synodical lines. Pastors in good standing in each church body may be invited to preach from the pulpits of congregations of the other church body.

Members of good standing may also transfer their membership from one body to the next but have to conform to the practices of the church they transfer to.

Rev. Brege said the declaration of fellowship was a recognition that there can be and is cooperation between the two different bodies and that they do have things in common.

Dr. Edwin Weber, former president of the Michigan district of the Lutheran-Missouri Synod, was also elected as a vice president of the national synod at the convention, Rev. Brege said.

Paw Paw Terms Are Approved

PAW PAW — A three-year master contract for teachers in the Paw Paw school district has been tentatively agreed upon after a 14-hour negotiating session between the board of education and the Paw Paw Education Association.

The two negotiating teams met Wednesday and reached accord on the contract early Thursday morning. The new three-year contract will cover wages, hours and conditions of employment for all teachers.

No details of the new agreement were announced after the meeting, but negotiators said details of the settlement will be available as soon as the board and the PPEA can meet separately to ratify the contract.

The new contract should take some of the strain off teacher and board of education relations in Paw Paw, where teachers worked all year last year without a contract. Last year's contract was never signed by the teachers and the PPEA filed an unfair labor practices charge against the board. This charge has yet to be ruled upon by the state Labor Relations board.

Paw Paw Voters To Decide Levy

Six Mills Asked To Meet Rising School Costs

PAW PAW—Voters in the Paw Paw school district will go to the polls Monday to decide the fate of a six-mill tax levy to be used for extra operating expenses for the schools.

Superintendent of Schools Albert Kimmel has listed the chief needs of the school district for the extra funds as increased salaries for both teachers and service personnel, the rising costs of materials and supplies, the increased cost of the Title III program, and the community schools' program which serves adults, as well as, students.

The Paw Paw school district is presently operating on a total of 28.18 mills, of which 13.5 is for operating costs.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. Monday and will remain open until 8 p.m. Balloting will be at the Michigan Avenue school on West Michigan avenue.

Fleeing Car Nearly Hits Patrolman

A Benton Harbor police officer said last night he was forced to jump out of the way of a car being driven away at high speed from the rear of J.C. Penny Co. store on West Main street.

Patrolman Dennis Akin said he and auxiliary officer Anthony Alt were in the alley checking on a car parked at the rear of the store with its motor running when the driver jumped in and drove off.

According to Akin, the officers tried to signal the driver to stop by shining flashlights onto the car. The driver, he said, accelerated and forced him to jump aside to avoid being hit.

Officials at the store said three men's suits were missing. The incident occurred at 8:50 p.m. while the store was open.

The car was found smashed against a light pole on Paw Paw avenue near Territorial road shortly after being driven from the alleyway. The driver could not be located, officers said. A registration check was being made to determine ownership.

In other cases reported to police: Robert Babcock, 21, of 351 High street, Benton Harbor, told Benton Harbor police he was jumped and robbed of $119 while walking on Pipestone early today. Farm Hand Acquitted In Killing

Jury Believes It Was Self-Defense

A 44-year-old Bainbridge township farm worker accused of second-degree murder in the rifle slaying of a co-worker last May 10 was acquitted late Friday by a Berrien circuit jury following a self-defense plea.

Willie Lee Ligon, of the Virgil Bradford farm, testified Willie Hart, 39, advanced jackknife in hand to seven feet from Ligon before Ligon's .22-caliber rifle fired.

Hart died almost instantly from a single bullet wound in the left chest. Ligon was first accused of first-degree murder, but Berrien Prosecutor Ronald Taylor won a motion on the first day of trial Thursday to amend the charge to second degree.

Testimony indicated Hart threatened Ligon with a knife several times before the shooting. On the afternoon of May 10 near Ligon's cabin, Hart advanced toward Ligon and "it was going to be me or him," Ligon told jurors Friday.

WITNESS TESTIFIES

A prosecution witness, Lester Profit, 36, of Wixom, testified he saw the two men about 10 feet apart just before the shooting but saw no knife. Under cross examination from court-appointed Defense Atty. Robert Cary of Niles, however, he admitted a knife may have been present.

Another witness, Jessie Dosier, Ligon's common-law wife, testified that immediately after the shooting Hart's common-law wife, Magnolia Rand, took the knife from Hart's right hand, closed it and put it in his right front pocket.

Berrien sheriff's deputies found it there later. Mrs. Rand could not be located to testify at trial.

The jury deliberated under an hour before reaching the innocent verdict. Trial was held in Judge Julian Hughes' court.

Gregory admitted to making up the report during questioning late in the morning by New Buffalo state police officers. According to police, Gregory confessed to bruising himself for proof of the alleged robbery.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS

Gregory, police added, indi-cated to them that financial difficulties caused him to false-ly report the robbery of $125.

The bonds are to be issued under the provisions of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, and pursuant to resolution duly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Berrien for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring a sewage disposal system and appurtenances in said County to service the Village of Three Oaks, compris-ing a county sewage disposal system designated as Berrien County Sewage Disposal System No. 2 (Village of Three Oaks).

The said bonds are issued in anticipation of and are payable primarily from certain specified contractual payments to be paid by the Village of Three Oaks, located in the County of Ber-rien, Michigan, to the Board of Public Works acting for and on behalf of the County of Berrien, pursuant to a certain contract between said governmental units, whereby said Board, on behalf of the County, is to construct sewer improvements within the aforesaid sewage disposal system. By the pro-visions of said contract, and pursuant to the authorization provided by law, the Village of Three Oaks has pledged its full faith and credit for the payment of its contractual obligation, and, to the extent necessary, is obligated by law to levy ad valorem taxes for such purpose without limitation as to rate or amount. The County of Berrien has irrevocably pledged to the payment of said bonds the total contractual payments, which payments are payable at such times and are established in such amounts as are required to pay the entire principal of and interest on the bonds promptly when due.

As additional security for the payment of the bonds and the interest thereon, the County of Berrien, as authorized by law, has pledged its full faith and credit for the prompt and timely payment thereof, and, to the extent necessary, is obligated by law to levy ad valorem taxes for such purpose without limita-tion as to rate or amount.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from September 1, 1969, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any pre-mium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the County of Berrien on all the bonds herein offered.

No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $15,600.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the County Treasurer, County of Berrien, Michigan, must ac-company each bid as a guaran-ty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly re-turned to each bidder's repre-sentative or by registered mail if no bidder's representative is present. Payment for said bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Mil-ler, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legali-ty of the bonds, the text of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond. The cost of such opinion and the cost of printing the bonds will be paid by the County. Exec-uted bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Il-linois or New York, New York. The bonds will be accompanied by the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.
